Dear Baron Jevers,

We have rescued the Counter draft of the Extradition Treaty from its obstruction - which I much regrets. Though the fault does not lie with my Department.
- and I hope that we shall how soon be able to put our suggestions before You in a formal shape.
There may be some little delay yet, as the details still require careful examination here, but I think I can promise that it shall not be longer than is absolutely necessary.

I merely send these few lines to show that I have not forgotten my promise of the other day. Not I wish to expedite matters. Yours very truly Charles Boyd Peterson
